ABOUT US

A Nairobi web studio that builds things from scratch

Stackwave Developers designs and builds custom-coded websites and web platforms for Kenyan businesses and tour operators. Every project is hand-built rather than assembled from a drag-and-drop template, with local payment options such as M-Pesa Daraja and Paystack built in where they are needed.

We work with Node.js and Express, Python and Flask, and React, and we know the tour and travel industry first-hand.

What we do

Web Design & Architecture	Custom-coded sites and platforms, from five-page business sites to booking engines and dashboards.
SEO Mastery	Dominating search rankings through technical audits and intent-driven content strategies.
Digital Strategy	Precision-targeted campaigns that convert visitors into brand advocates across all channels.
Performance First	Every line of code and every pixel is optimized for one thing: your return on investment.

Notes

- All prices are starting points — final quotes depend on page count, features, content readiness, and integrations.
- A deposit (commonly 50%) is typically requested to begin work, with the balance due on delivery.
- Domain and hosting are billed separately at cost unless bundled into the package.
- Revisions beyond the included rounds are billed at an agreed hourly or per-change rate.
- Prices exclude third-party costs (premium plugins, stock photography, paid ad accounts) unless stated otherwise.
